Planned start

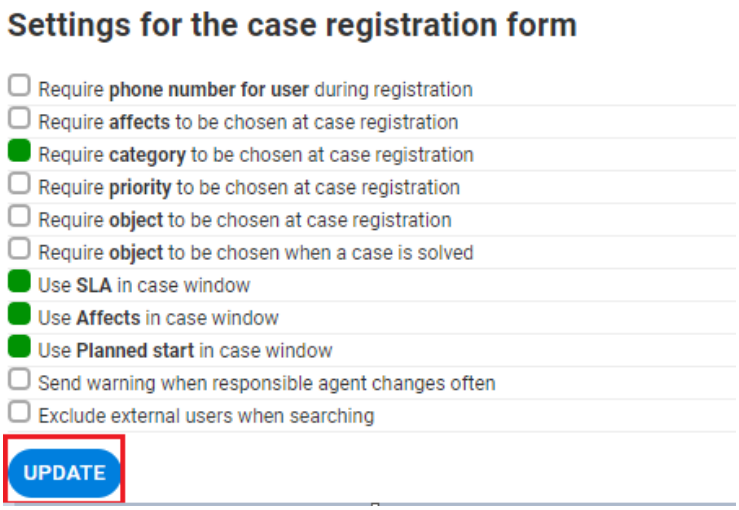

To activate Planned start, open Settings and Setup

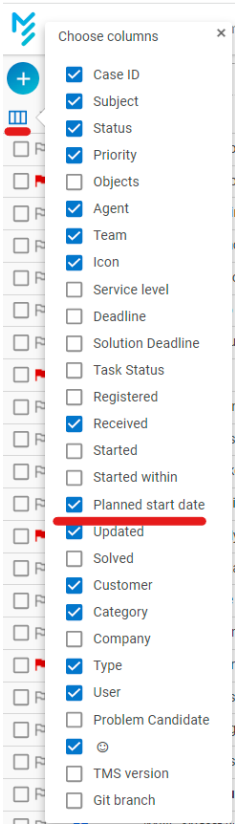

Activate Planned start

After changing the setting, remember to push Update to save the change.

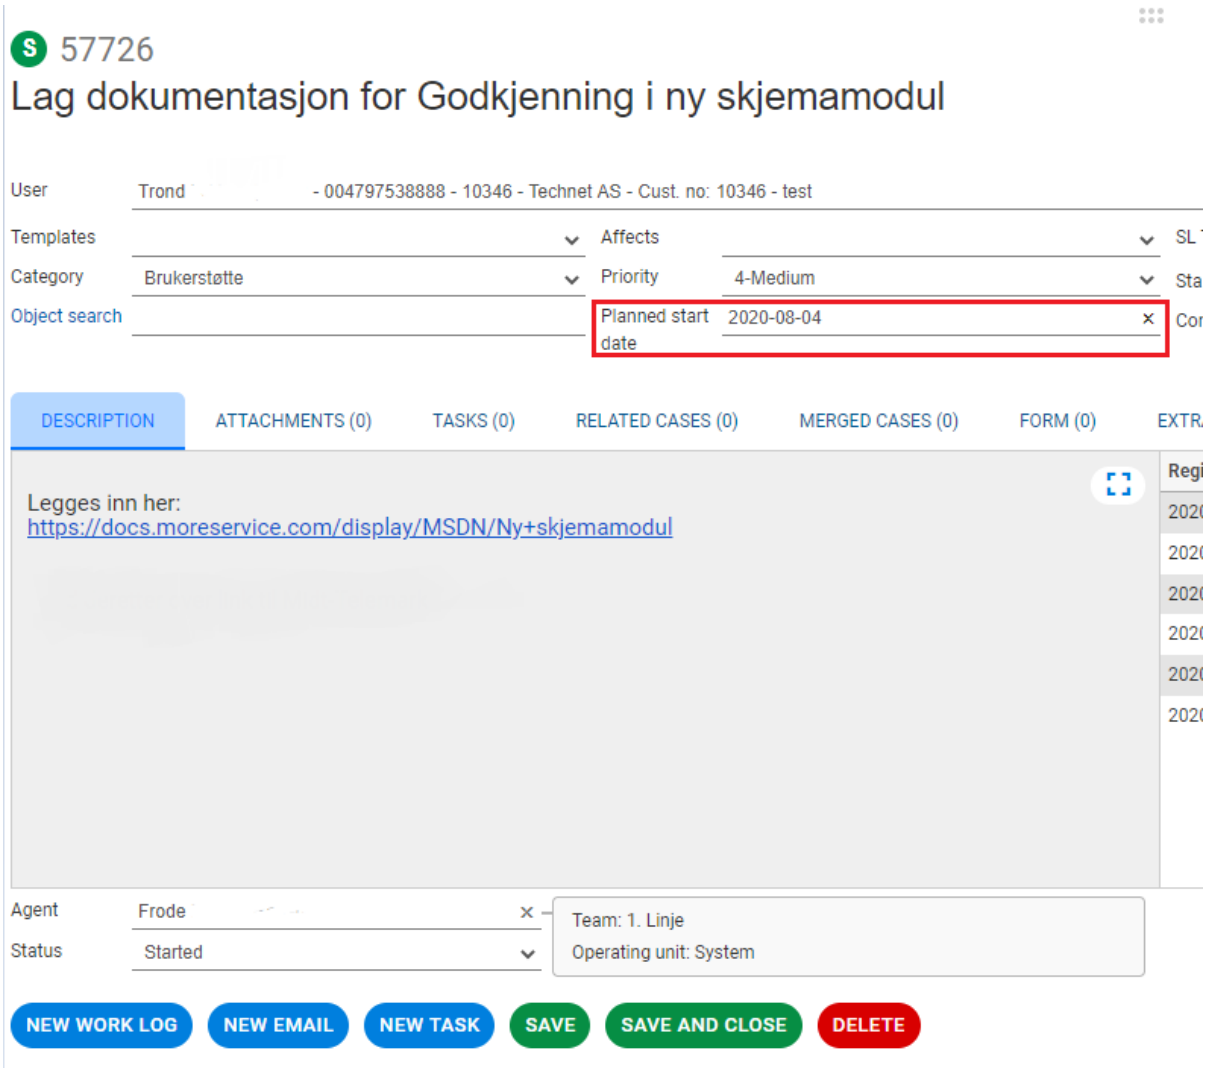

The Planned change column can be displayed by opening the Column list and activate the coulumn.

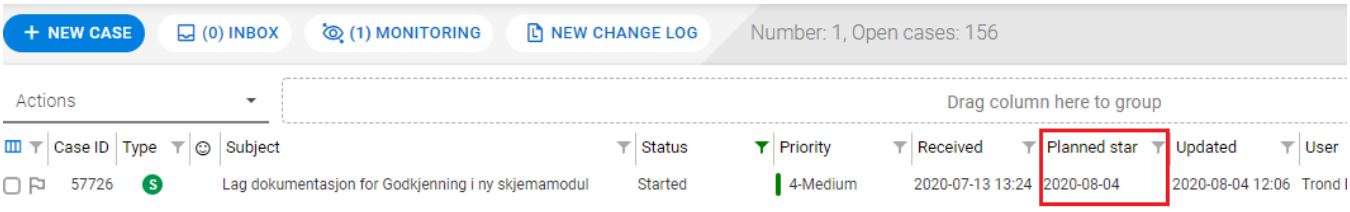

After the change you can save the view.

When you open an existing case or creates a new one the Planned start date field will appear in the case window.

When the case is saved the date will be displayed in the case list.

You can filter and sort planned start the same way as the other columns by dragging the column to the grouping field.
