Original e-mail that generates case does not contain all TO -addresses

All "To"- addresses are now saved to the database as long as they don't contain more than 4000 characters.

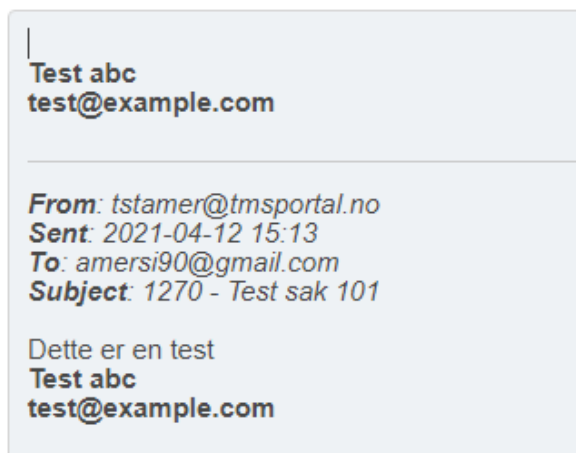

Header of the email you respond to is not included in your response

When replying to an mail via More Service, the original email now shows meta information:

Direct link to case

This fix ensures that both large an small letters can be used in the direct case url:

"caseid" did not work before, needed to write "caseId"
